2018 SEASON

2018 SEASON RECAP

PLAYOFF BOUND

The Wings secured its spot in the 2018 WNBA playoffs with a 107-102 win over the Las Vegas Aces on August 17th. Dallas matched up against the fifth-seed Phoenix Mercury in the first round of the playoffs, falling the first back-to-back playoff appearance for franchise since 2008 and 2009, and the 11th appearance overall.

The Wings are 30-22 all-time in the playoffs, dating back to the franchise's first appearance in 1999. Interim head coach Taj McWilliams-Franklin was the fifth coach to lead the team to postseason play. Dallas had three players - Liz Cambage, Leticia Romero and Azurá Stevens- who made their first WNBA playoff appearance.

Dating back to the franchise's inception as the Detroit Shock in 1999, the team has three WNBA championships and has advanced to the WNBA finals four times, both most recently in 2008. The first came in 2003 with a 2-1 series win over the Los Angeles Sparks, the second came after a 3-2 win over the Sacramento Monarchs and the third championship trophy was hoisted after sweeping the San Antonio Silver Stars 3-0 in 2008. McWilliams-Franklin was on that 2008 team and also won a championship with the Minnesota Lynx in 2011.

This is the franchise's second playoff appearance since moving to Dallas in 2016. The Wings lost to the Washington Mystics in a single-elimination game in the 2017 playoffs.

HIGH-SCORING OFFENSE

The Dallas Wings had one of the most prolific offenses in franchise history, setting records for most points in a season with 2,946 and most field goals in a season, 1,037. The Wings ranked in the top three in league standings in both categories, as well as leading the league in free throws made and free throws attempted.

The Wings reached the 100-point mark in six games during the 2018 season, the most in a single season in franchise history. Dallas scored at least 90 points in 13 games this year, including a stretch of five straight from July 3rd to July 12th.

In the 34 games played, the Wings recorded 70-plus points in 33 out of 34 games and kept its opponents to an averge of 85.4 point per game. Against the Sky, the Wings recorded a season-high 62 points in the paint. Cambage and Diggins-Smith lead the Wings, averaging 23.4 and 18.3 points per game, respectively. Their 41.7 points per game made them the second-highest scoring duo in the league in 2018.

FACE OF THE FRANCHISE

In her sixth season in the league, Wings guard Skylar Diggins-Smith cemented herself as one of the all-time greats in franchise history. Diggins-Smith moved up in the franchise history books to the top five in starts (5th) and minutes played (4th). She is also now top three in assists (3rd), steals (t-2nd), and points scored (2nd), and has become the all-time franchise leader in free throws made with 756. She has done it all in only 168 games played, which ranks eighth in franchise history.

Diggins-Smith and Cambage, were named 2018 WNBA All-Stars. It was Diggins-Smith's second straight selection and fourth overall, becoming one of four players in franchise history to earn back-to-back nods. Diggins-Smith turned in an all-time performance on June 8th in her home state of Indiana, recording career highs in points (35) and rebounds (12) in a win versus the Fever.

On July 8 in New York, Diggins-Smith recorded her 54th career 20-point game and her eighth career 30-point game on the road. In both categories, Diggins-Smith moved ahead of Deanna Nolan for the lead in franchise history. Against the Lynx, she moved ahead of Swin Cash as the second-highest scorer in franchise history. Diggins-Smith scored a career-high 35 points, grabbed a career-high 12 rebounds and added six assists against the Fever on June 8. The game was her second straight 25/5/5 game after she scored 27 points, grabbed five rebounds and dished out seven assists. Before the two performances, there had never been a 25/5/5 game in Wings history.

DYNAMIC DUO

Cambage and Diggins-Smith teamed up this year to become one of the formattable duos in the league. The two were top-scoring teammates in the league, averaging a combined 38.5 points per game. There were 12 games where duo scored higher than 50 percent of the team's total, finishing with 45 percent of the Wings scoring overall. There were 15 games where the two finished with over 40 combined points, with season-high of 66 combined points in the Wings 107-point win on August 17th to clinch a playoff spot.

YOUTH MOVEMENT

Following her Rookie of the Year selection in 2017, Wings guard Allisha Gray provided a steady performance in 2018 as the only Wings player to start every game on the year. She recorded her first two career double-doubles, turning in a 12-point, 10-assist performance on July 31st and 12-point, 12-rebound game on August 12th. Gray and Diggins-Smith are the only two Wings players with multiple double-doubles in separate categories this season.

Rookie Azurá Stevens, the sixth overall pick in the 2018 draft, played in every game for the Wings this season and started seven. She was one of only three players (along with Cambage and Diggins-Smith) to lead the team in scoring this season, turning in a 26-point performance versus Indiana on July 5th. She ranked in the top five in rookie scoring, rebounding and field goal percentage.

SPARK PLUGS

In her second season with the Wings, forward Kayla Thornton provided a burst of energy every time she entered the court. Over last season, the third-year player has increased her scoring, rebounding, assists per game and has seen her minutes played rise from 17.2 per game to 29 per game. She has also set single-game career highs in points, field goals, 3-pt field goals, rebounds, and assists this year while starting in 32 games.

Forward Glory Johnson came back from an early-season injury to provide savvy veteran leadership and a tough rebounding presence for the Wings. Johnson turned in two point-rebound double-doubles this year and ranked second on the team in rebounds per game behind Cambage.

PROTECTING THE HOUSE

The Wings recorded the second best record at home this season recording a 10-7 record. Within those 10 wins, six of them were 100-point games, which is the most recorded on the team's home court in franchise history.

OFF THE BENCH

The Wings bench scored a new season high of 49 points against the Indiana Fever. Stevens led all reserves in the win with her career high of 26 points. It marked as the third time that the bench out supported their starting five. On June 22, the reserves led the way for the second straight game with 41 points against the Los Angeles Sparks. Aerial Powers led the way for the Wings off the bench with 16 points on 6-of-12 shooting from the field. Five bench players contributed to the scoring, including Glory Johnson, who scored eight points and grabbed six rebounds. Cayla George scored her first points of the season and finished with six points in the blowout win. Rookie Leticia Romero added six points off the bench in just seven minutes of action. The Wings bench went off for 39 points in a blowout victory over the Sparks. Azura Stevens scored 16 points, while Cayla George added a season-high 12 points on 6-for-7 from the field.

2018 SEASON RECAP

FIVE GAME WIN STREAK

In a span of nine days at the start of July, the Wings strung together five straight wins- the longest streak since the team moved to Arlington. The team's average margin of victory in that time was 20.8 points per game, outscoring opponents by an average score of 97.6 to 76.8. The scoring outbreak was supported by the Dallas bench, which averaged 34.8 points per game in the win streak compared to 17.9 average in the other 29 games. The bench was led by performances from Stevens, who averaged 16.4 points per game in that stretch, seven points above her overall season average.

OUR HOME

COLLEGE PARK CENTER

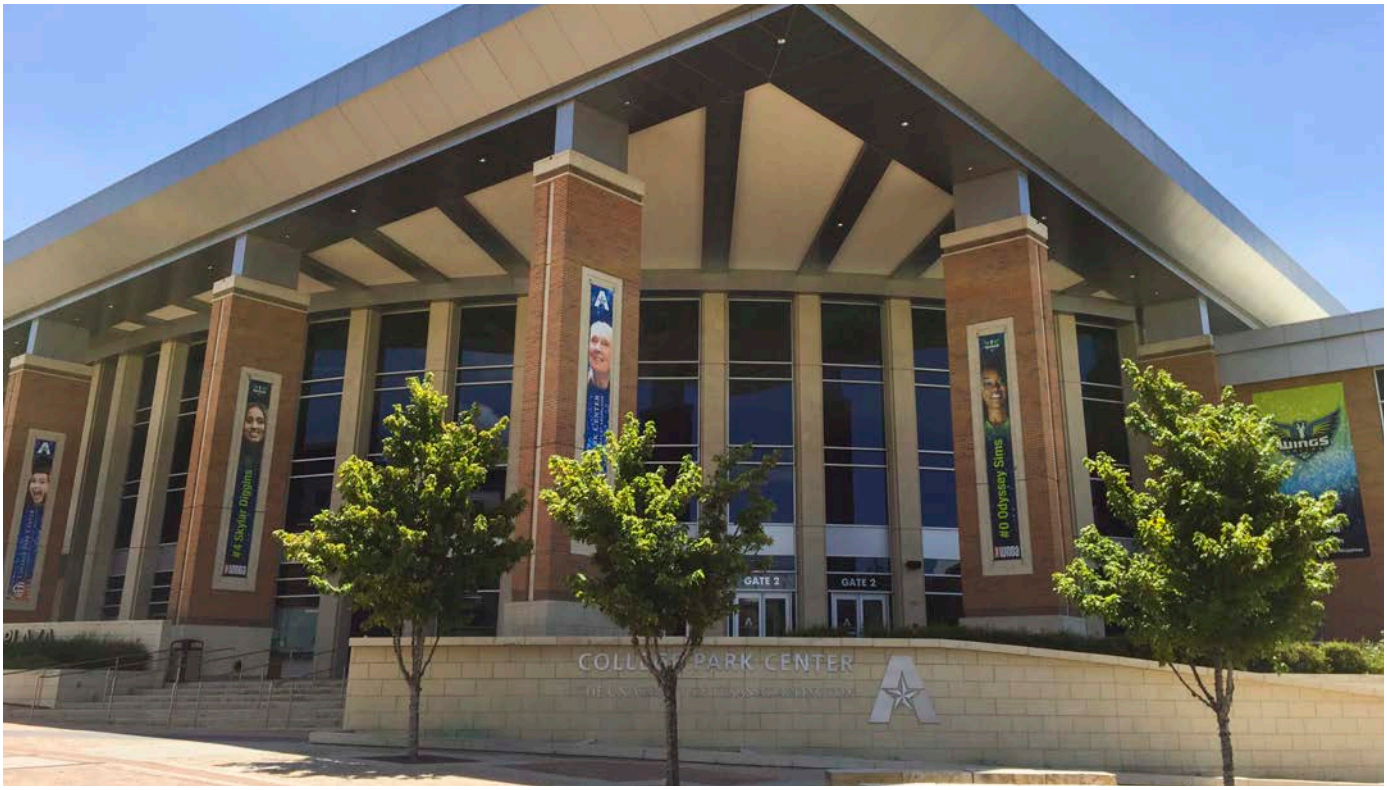
College Park Center, which opened in February of 2012, represents a dream come true for a generation of alumni, faculty, staff, and community members. And for the next generation of students, it offers a vision of great things to come. Located deep in the heart of downtown Arlington, its location was strategically chosen to help lure both the Arlington community and the nearly 33,000 UT Arlington college students to the revitalized downtown area.

College Park Center is home to the WNBA Dallas Wings and the University's men's and women's basketball and volleyball teams, and to numerous high-profile events and entertainment, conferences, and community activities.

As part of its commitment to academic excellence, the University has devoted significant space to an academic support study center with a study hall, computer lab, group study room, and areas for academic advising.

College Park Center is located in downtown Arlington in the College Park District, located to the east of the main UT Arlington campus and spanning more than 20 acres. The Center is surrounded by a wide variety of retail stores and restaurants.

Designed by Dallas, Texas architects, HKS, Inc., College Park Center is expected to meet LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) Gold standards, incorporating many energy-efficient features including low-emittance glazed windows, a highly reflective roof that reduces the solar load on the building, and a low-use water system. The building incorporates regional materials and includes native landscaping. The exterior mixes brick and stone exteriors with windows that stretch nearly the full height of the 50-foot building. The building is oriented to allow natural light to flow onto the concourses.

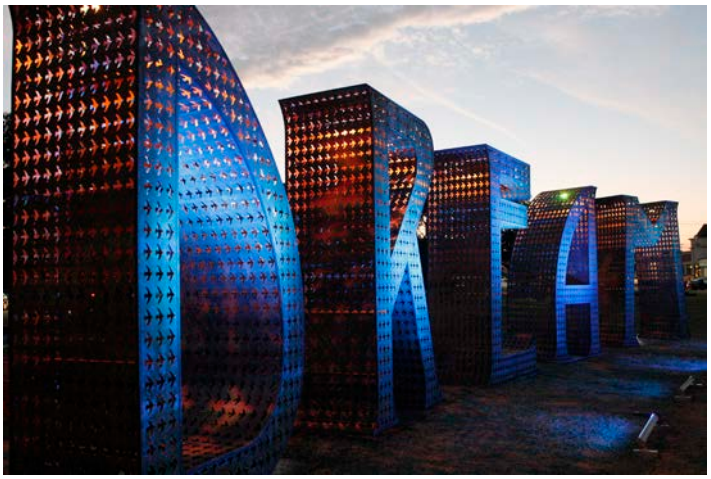


CITY OF ARLINGTON, TEXAS

Arlington is proud to be the home of the Dallas Wings.

This fast-rising WNBA team is one of the newest additions to The American Dream City, which also include the Texas Rangers, the Dallas Cowboys, Six Flags Over Texas, Hurricane Harbor, and the International Bowling Museum and Hall of Fame. Arlington is also excited to see the opening of the Texas Live! entertainment complex later this year, the Live! by Loews luxury hotel in 2019 and the retractable-roof Globe Life Field in 2020.

In addition to a world-class Entertainment District, the city is home to diverse and rich cultural and educational opportunities. The state-designated Cultural District in Downtown includes the Levitt Pavilion, Theatre Arlington, Arlington Music Hall, the Arlington Museum or Art and a variety of galleries, recording studios and public art.



Major employers here include the Arlington Independent School District, University of Texas at Arlington, General Motors and Texas Health Resources. The Parks Mall at Arlington, Arlington Highlands and Lincoln Square shopping centers are among the major retail and dining destinations that help keep the city's economy humming.

Arlington is the seventh largest city in Texas and the 50th largest in the nation. This 99-square-mile city borders Kennedale, Grand Prairie, Mansfield and Fort Worth, and surrounds the smaller communities of Dalworthington Gardens and Pantego.
